2 years professional experience (mostly webapp backend/frontend work). At my job, I primarily work in Java, JavaScript (AngularJS), HTML and SQL.

Haven't worked with Skyrim modding before, but I can pick up new things relatively easily. Plus, I'm itching to do some non-web work on the side.

Please note that the github link I'm providing below has some empty projects that I began right before I got my first job...just so it doesn't look like I'm trying to pad or anything. No Papyrus/Creation Kit work is listed there, so if that's all you want to see, you can ignore that.
