Skills and Experience: I am currently working on a graphic novel series and have time to pick up a hobby on the side, right now I am an artist willing to draw concept art or sketch up modified versions of existing things. I've had a few Cabrillo College art courses and am looking to improve my skills by practicing outside my graphic novel. I am also a decent writer, Its my future career. Other than that i have a little experience in the skyrim creation kit and am willing to put time into learning new things to do tasks when needed.
