Skills and Experience: Coding/Scripting/Mechanics:

I have several years of coding experience, mostly using Java but complemented with C, Python, Javascript and Haskell. Therefore I have knowledge of the programming paradigms employed by those languages.

I have worked in teams before (small groups of up to 4 people but still) using version control software (git). Because of this I also have become quite consistent in keeping up to date with changes and sharing them with others.

Writing:

For the last five years I have been running pen and paper RPG games (Dungeons and Dragons, Mutants and Masterminds and Star Wars RPG - among others).

During these years I've gotten quite a bit of experience in how to design (and run) interesting stories whilst setting up mysteries and plot hooks for later use, without rubbing them in the faces of the players.
