Skills and Experience: I am a huge fan of TES and am an engineer by profession. I work in control systems and process control design and therefore I do alot with coding, code design, algorithm construction, and problem solving. While I do not have a ton of experience with Papyrus or ck, I am fluent in C, C++,C#, HTML, CSS, SQL, jQuery, basic java, matlab, and visual studio suite. I am very geared towards debugging and problem solving but can also do new coding as well. While I am not fluent in Papyrus, I can learn it quite quickly as I am very fluent in programming and logical operations already. I would love to help if you folks need it. I would absolutely love to play morrowind with skyrim's engine and love that you guys are doing this.
