Level of Commitment: Moderately active

Skills and Experience: I am a database developer by trade, with a BS in Computer Science, and a lot of experience in a ton of other languages through school and hobby projects.

I have done all sorts of "classic" CS stuff like data structures, algorithms, AI (specifically search algorithms like depth-first, breadth-first, A*), as well as some Assembly Language stuff.

Additionally I am pretty strong mathematically speaking, my interests tend to veer in that direction when I am solving problems for fun.

I have a lot more code I can provide, I just put some stuff up on github as a general sample.
