Skills and Experience: I've had the pleasure to gain experience in a few coding languages during my university time, including, but not limited to: C, C++, C#, Objective C, Java, Javascript, Web (HTML, CSS, XML). These have been used in both desktop and mobile applications, as well as for the creation of (WebApi) servers (including databases) and services.

During the same time, I've learned to write qualitatively good documentation, which helps me when writing my own stories.

I've taught myself in playing piano, and have been playing for the past 5 years. I've also picked up an ocarina, and have been practicing a few months now.

I have a bit of experience with voice acting; I've co-created an animation short with a few friends during high school. It was quite dreadful to look back at it, but I'm willing to try it.
