Skills and Experience: I've been making games in Game Maker Studio for 2-3 years now, using their GML scripting language. I have a lot of experience in Python 3+, I'm even a part of a small club teaching Python and other scripting languages too children. I have also been using Unity3D on and off for about a year and have lots of experience in the C# programming language. I have zero experience in Papyrus, however I am very willing and ready to learn.
