Level of Commitment: Moderately active

Skills and Experience: I want to help and I am willing to learn. That probably isn't enough but I would think your needs would determine how motivated you are to train.

I am not familiar w/ Visual basic, C+ or C++ but I am again willing.

I have some experience doing basic HTML coding (years ago)

I sing Baritone/Tenor, play trombone, can whistle, 'click' (like the old Maxwell House commercials) and do various types of voices. However, Smitehammer doesn't think my voice is suitable so I suppose VA assistance won't be of help.

I also have Sony SoundForge Pro and Spectral Layers Pro. I use it and the home studio version to edit music to make it better/more appealing. I submitted an example of that under the Breton VA submissions.

I have a fairly up to date piece of hardware which I built myself running Win 10 Pro w/ 8 GB Ram / AM3 Processor 4 core I am trying to upgrade to the 64 bit version while retaining the virtual drives and am experimenting w/ the image on USB to effectively carry that out.

I have a lot of varied experiences that come w/ age:

such that have wisened me include training, technical writing, team leading, driving 18 Wheelers & forklifts, cleaning apartments, repairing walls, installing fans and fixtures, working on a Help Desk and administering as a Program Manager. I have also been a Network Operation Center Technician, Retail Clerk, Buyer, Pizza Delivery Driver, Janitor and have done shrubbery maintenance. I also have over 8 years of customer service experience in retail & corporate environments and many years of IT experience. I have a BA in Biology.

I expect that I could donate 5 - 10 hours per week to help where needed.
