Country of Residence: United States

Timezone: UTC -05 (Eastern Time)

Interested in: Voice Acting, Writing

Level of Commitment: Moderately active

Skills and Experience: I have a voice and I know how to make words with it.

More importantly, I can read in a realistic manner and inflect emotions into my reading as well. I'm a 26 year old white female with a slight Midwestern accent, although I still prefer saying "soda" to "pop," unlike most of my kin.

Proper grammar and enunciation are a borderline religious practice for me- I'm that troll that prowls message boards correction improper uses of "your/you're" and "their/they're/there." When it comes to writing for Skywind, I feel my skills are useful as 1. I still have a decent imagination for someone my age and 2. I was unhealthily obsessed with Morrowind from the ages of 13-16.

I messed around with modding for awhile but never had the expertise to contribute much. This is such an amazing project and you've done beautiful work so far- I want to help.

I'm not sure what to link as a portfolio, since I do not have one. However, attached is a link to an incredibly inspirational song by the Dear Hunter. I listen to it when I need to get motivated. Check it out, they're amazing.

I will volunteer all the time I have. I do work a full time job at night but I'll be here when you need me, and will finish any project I take on.
