Level of Commitment: Moderately active

Skills and Experience: I have been working as a game developer for 2 years. I want to practice my 3D modelling skills. I believe that I can be of help with modelling objects such as swords, boxes, ships, buildings, etc. I would also like to give character modelling a try. I can definitely create some awesome and detailed normal maps using Mudbox!

I've been watching this project for years now, but years ago I didn't have any game development experience. I would love to help with this project now that I have the experience.
