Level of Commitment: Moderately active

Skills and Experience: Professional software developer (~3 years experience). Currently working in the finance industry with VB.NET. Have good experience with C#, Java, Python and PHP.

I have a small amount of game development experience using the XNA/Monogame toolset for C#, having created a couple of small games in my spare time to learn the basics of game development (think pong, brick-breaker, tanks style games).

Spent a little time playing the with Divintiy: Original Sin creators toolkit, but have no experience with the Skyrim Creation Kit or Papyrus. Have always wanted to work on and contribute to a game development project. My software development career has been entirely self-taught, so picking up new skills in a specific framework or kit is no hurdle for me.
