Level of Commitment: Moderately active

Skills and Experience: Graduating 2016 with a BA in Professional and Technical Writing with a focus on all things computer-y with like a 3.5 or something like that. I also have a fair amount of background in creative writing pursuits including newspaper writing, short story, screenplays and drunken, maudlin poems. I'm an exceptionally persnickety editor, have a basic grasp of programming, and thoroughly enjoy both creating copy and formatting said copy into beautiful and efficient documents. I do not currently have an online portfolio. I endeavored to create one quickly for the purpose of this application, but I somehow chose the one site that does not afford for the upload of any documents. Apparently you only get a pretty picture and a blurb. So there's that. I linked it anyway - there's a pretty picture of a volcano that you might like.
