Skills and Experience: I'm a native Dutchman with a thing for English. A few years ago I started writing poems in both English and Dutch. I haven't been published, but you might check out a few of my scattered, barely-read pieces by clicking the attached links.

I'm also a major sucker for lore and am very much into details. If something is inconsistent, contains errors or could otherwise use improvement, you can bet your bottom dollar that I'll notice it.

Concerning the sound side of things: I have some experience with DAWs, though I've never really created a sound effect. The GECK is not unfamiliar to me either.

About my level of commitment: I currently have all the time in the world. So if there's enough to do, I'll have the time to do it.
